A cartoon illustration featuring two anthropomorphic characters in a room. In the foreground, a purple rabbit-like character with long ears, wearing a flight helmet with a yellow visor, a brown tactical vest, and large green boots, stands holding a large grey rocket launcher. It is aiming the launcher towards a poster on the right wall. The poster has the text "NOW APPEARING!" in red, slanted letters. In the background, through a large window, a city skyline is visible under a blue sky with white clouds. To the left, a brown dog-like character with floppy ears is peeking out from behind a wall, holding a lit rocket with a red tip and a small flame. The floor is a light blue-grey color. The overall style is a colorful, comic-book-like illustration.
